

Is Putin's Russia an alternative model for Europe?

Madrid, June 16, 2017

Venue: Espacio Bertelsmann (Calle de O'Donnell, 10, 28009 Madrid)

Organised by: the Barcelona Centre for International Affairs (CIDOB) and the Friedrich Ebert Stiftung (FES) with the support of Europe for Citizens

PUBLIC CONFERENCE

09.30 WELCOME

Gero Maass, Director, Madrid Office, Friedrich Ebert Stiftung (FES)

Jordi Bacaria, Director, CIDOB, Barcelona

09.45 DISINFORMATION AND RUSSIAN INFLUENCE ON POPULISM IN THE EU

Chair: María Pallares, Programme Coordinator, Friedrich Ebert Stiftung (FES), Madrid

Jean-Yves Camus, Political analyst and an Associate Research Fellow, IRIS, Paris

Peer Teschendorf, Russia Project Coordinator, Friedrich Ebert Stiftung (FES), Berlin

Jessikka Aro, Investigative Reporter, Helsinki

Boris Reitschuster, Journalist, Berlin

10.30 Debate among the experts and with the audience

11.00 Coffee break

11.15 RUSSIA'S MODEL FOR A EUROPEAN SECURITY ORDER

Chair: Borja Lasheras, Director ECFR, Madrid

Marek Menkiszak, Head, Russian Department, Centre for Eastern Studies (OSW), Warsaw

Stephen Dalziel, Senior Fellow, The Institute for Statecraft, London

Sergey Sukhankin, Associate Expert at ICPS (Kyiv) and Visiting Research Fellow, IBEI (Barcelona)

Nicolás de Pedro, Research Fellow, CIDOB, Barcelona

12.00 Debate among the experts and with the audience

12.30 CONSERVATIVE REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA

Chair: Carmen Claudín, Associate Senior Research Fellow, CIDOB, Barcelona

Andrey Makarychev, Professor of Government and Politics at the University of Tartu, Estonia, and Associate Senior Researcher, CIDOB.

Pilar Bonet, Correspondent, El País, Moscow

Konstantin von Eggert, Journalist, Programme host and commentator at TV Rain, Moscow

13.15 Debate among the experts and with the audience

13.45 CLOSING

Working language: English without simultaneous interpretation